

ZONTA CLUB OF MEADVILLE MARGARET DEANE, PRESIDENT

This club is working to increase their numbers. They added two new members this year but lost one. Their annual blood screening in May was a success and monies were used to fund the scholarships they give. Each year the club gives a $500 scholarship to vocational technical student and a student who plans to go to college. The clean up the highway each year.

ZONTA CLUB OF OIL CITY/FRANKLIN CHARLENE HUBER, PRESIDENT

This is a strong active club with a membership of 33. They meet at alternating months at Franklin Elks and Torino's in Oil City. This is an older steady club that continues to promote the Zonta Values .She was They held a birthing kit assembly May 21'st, which I attended. The members were excited and they put together 300 birthing kits and plan to do it again. The commitment to membership is ongoing. The Vice President is in charge of promoting Zonta and seeking new members. One of their Service Projects is assisting the local Women's Shelter.

ZONTA CLUB OF PITTSBURGH PRESIDENT LORENE VINSKI, PRESIDENT

This past year was very full for the Pittsburgh Club. Their membership is up to 26 members. They held their annual Amelia Earhart Luncheon where they honor high school girls who have overcome major obstacles in their lives. They receive a new computer and a gift certificate form Macy's. They also gave the Amelia Earhart to an outstanding local woman who has succeeded in a field dominated by men. They also give out an award to a Dr. Yvonne Maher with the Spirit of Amelia award. This is given to a woman who makes a difference. The annual summer movie fundraiser had the "Help" as its featured film. In addition to all of this they put together 700 birthing kits to be sent to a hospital in Kenya. The Pittsburgh Club was chartered in 1934.

ZONTA CLUB OF THREE RIVERS PITTSBURGH NORTH L. KATHLEEN FROEHLE, PRESIDENT

This club year was crammed with activities. This is an extremely active club that has embraced both service and legislative awareness, and has actively moved forward in both areas. From the monies they make at the Glass Slipper Ball. (which I attended for the first time) they are able to fund numerous service projects. A coat drive for North Hills Outreach, monies to Crisis Center North, P.O.W.E.R., and Girls Hope. They also give out the "Penny Smith Award" to a women who has shown dedication to furthering the status of women. But most impressively they have sponsored two events this year. One is the Human Trafficking Event which they sponsored with American University Women called Human Trafficking and Slavery Today and How communities can bring about change. They are sponsoring on Sept 6th at Carnegie University a program entitled Sex and Money - A National Search for Human Worth.

The club continues to fight for retention of members. During the year they added 6 new members and went up to 20 but then lost 4 members when dues were due. They are now at 16 members. Two resigned, one died and one moved away. They held a membership event in July that 38 women attended. From this event they have 4 prospective members. Their service projects were an auction for the Washington Women's Shelter, and they assisted the Food Bank in a large fund raiser. They held their annual Amelia Earhart Celebration which awards one Junior Girl from each high school in the county for their service to the community. The finalist gets a $1000 award. The Rose Day and 26 Anniversary Celebration was held in May. Kathleen Douglas was the main speaker. She was wonderful in that she provided an overview of ZONTA and all that we contribute to communities locally and globally. Five women were honored and a non- traditional nursing student was awarded a $1000 award. They are planning a birthing kit assembly in October. They are still in the process of obtaining the 501(C)(3) status.
